

Just to let you know...

Dear Parents,

We've been busy this week, finishing off our Tudor topic books—they look fantastic! The children will be bringing them home next week, so you will get a chance to look through some of the beautiful work they've done this term.

We've had been focusing on Elizabethan Christmas traditions as part of our Christmas topic and it was lovely to see so many of you at our Tudor Fayre—thank you for supporting us! We also enjoyed a lovely Christmas walk in the Chancies and a Christmas church service this week.

Please encourage your child to practise the clarinet over the holidays.

We're looking forward to next term's topic: Space, The Final Frontier, so if you're stuck for Christmas present ideas, science books could make the perfect gift for enquiring minds! Any books on the subject of the Universe or light and how we see, will be really useful. It would also be great if you could ensure children are fully equipped with pens pencils and rubbers etc... for the new term.

Don't forget that Monday 7th January is an INSET day, school starts back on Tuesday 8th at 8.40 am. Our new year resolution is to ensure that lessons start promptly at 8.40—please help us to achieve this!

We wish you all a very happy and peaceful Christmas
Bec, Henry, Alison and Heather
